The near advent of the holidays and the close of the year haturally curtails operations in most primary markets, though retail trade is respondingly augmented and every indication poitns to a large distribution of merchandise.

The difficulties experienced by the steel mills in making prompt deliveries is the cause for some abatement in the demand for finished products, while the luli in pig iron buying is becoming more pronounced, production rapidly overtaking consumptive requirements.

production rapidly overtaking consumptive requirements.

Cotton goods are steadler and larger purchases of gray goods have been made on contract. Jobbers are buying in a very limited way and are taking their semi-annual inventories. The acceptance of all goods on order and anticipation of many December shipments are regarded as very promising signs for the future.

Investigation Covers Many Cities in All Parts of the Country as Well as All Classes of Victims.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.-Stories of revolting practices of American and foreign procurers of women for importation into the United States for immoral purposes are told in a report issued today by the immigration commission. The recommendations of the commission contemplate a closer scrutiny of the admission of allen women and renewed efforts to stamp out the so-called "white slave traffle."

The inquiry covered the cities of New Fork, Chicago, San Francisco, Scattle, Portland, Sait Lake City, Ogden, Butta, Denver, Buffale, Boston and New Orleans. No attempt was made to investigate conditions in every important city. But the commission believes that the rough evidence with reference to women of different races and nationalities and living under different conditions, has been obtained from localities sufficiently scattered to warrant the reports used as a basis for egislative and administrative action. The report says concerning talk of a great monopolistic corporation whose bustness it is to import and exploit these unfortunate women:

"The commission has been unable to earn of any such corporation and does not believe in its existence." It is stated, however, that persons engaged in such importing husiness doubtless have a wide acquaintance among themselves, and in many instances they have rather close business relations, one with another, so as to prevent their victims from getting out of their clutches before they have realized the desired profits from their base ven-

Under the head of "Recommendations" the commission says that owing to the difference between European and Amerlcan views regarding the business of disreputable women, co-operation for the suppression of the white siave traffic can be expected from most of the European nations only along certain lines. Most European countries, it says, are rigid in their regulations regarding procuring of minor girls or of any women by means of fraud and deceit. Women, who are of age and who enter the business of their own accord are not interfered with. Such government probably would co-operate only to prevent the seduction of minors or the fraudulent or forcible exportation of their women. In the main, however, the United States government must rely upon its own officials for prevention of this traffic.

A number of suggestions of administrative changes and more rigid enforcement of existing regulations by the Department of Commerce and Labor, particularly by the bureau of immigration, and amendments of the immigration act itself are submitted by the commission.

Cherry Mine Inquest is Adjourned

Jury Intimates that County Officers Are Not Trying to Find Witnesses Wanted.

New business in boots and shoes is less in evidence, which is natural considering the near approach of the holidays, but the demand has shown a healthler improvement. Trade in leather continues buiet, but the market remains in a strong position, as tanpers are well sold shead and stocks are small. Packer hides are maintained, a sa rule, although some weakness is shown in cowhides, owing to the increased slaughter. Country hides are again lower and Chicago buffs are now quoted down to 13½ cents.

Yoows%3.;bsibki%higherE T A O IN... CHERRY, Ill., Dec. 8.-Inquiry by the coroner's jury into the cause of the St. Paul mine disaster, in which 300 men were killed came to an abrupt close today without a vardict being reached. The jury announced it would not consider, returning a verdict until Alexander Rosenjack and BRADSTREET'S REVIEW OF TRADE Robert Dean, missing witnessos, either had been found or the county officials showed evidence of a genuine desire to find them. It was agreed to adjourn until December 20, in order to give the officials opportunity for further search for the miss ing witnesses.

Immediately preceding the adjournment, John Hand, a miner from Spring Valley, who was among the first rescuing party to enter the mine, while the fires were raging the day following the disaster, testified that he had heard signals for assistance from entombed miners, but he could get no help from officials or experts to whom he told his story.

The miner said that he was standing at the top of the shaft, when he heard repeated tappings, which could not have been caused by anything but the picks of the entrapped men. Big Employers
